Dear Sir:

It is with sincere regret that I am forced, due to a previous engagement in New York City, to forego the extreme pleasure it would be for me to attend the dedication ceremonies on Saturday, April 5th.

There is nothing that would bring me greater pleasure than to be present on such a memorable occasion in the city of my birth and early education but it is impossible at this time.

With deep appreciation for your cordial invitation,
I am

Yours very sincerely

Dear Sir:

While unable to attend the City Hall dedication ceremonies scheduled for Saturday, April 5, I thank you for the formal invitation, received undoubtedly at the suggestion of your worthy Mayor, and congratulate the city of Auburn not only on having such a fine edifice to house its municipal activities but also on having the Osborne family, whose interest in public affairs and generosity of both money and services have been great factors in the development of your city.

I hope the dedication ceremonies will prove a most happy occasion and that you may enjoy your new City Hall.

Very truly yours
