Auburn, New York

Two historical markers to be dedicated in Auburn...

1. Denoting the location of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union building founded by Eliza Wright Osborne and will be installed on South Street in front of the New York State Equal Rights Heritage Center at 25 South Street in downtown Auburn.

2. Denoting the location of the Cayuga County Political Equality Club which was located at 9 Exchange Street, an organization founded by Emily Howland who served as President, and Eliza Wright Osborne who served as Vice President. Marker to be installed on the north end of the Exchange Street Plaza.

The National Votes for Women Trail is sponsored by the National Collaborative for Women's History Sites. The trail seeks to recognize and celebrate the enormous diversity of people and groups active in the struggle for women's suffrage. The two markers to be dedicated in Auburn join a program of historic markers for about 250 women's suffrage sites across the country. This program was funded by the William G. Pomeroy Foundation and the federal Women's Suffrage Centennial Commission. Info: <https://ncwhs.org/votes-for-women-trail/>
