LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY ACCREDITATION PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Program Basics

The New York State Law Enforcement Agency Accreditation Program was established as a voluntary program that would provide law enforcement agencies with a mechanism to evaluate and improve the overall effectiveness of their agency and the performance of their staff. Accreditation is formal recognition that an agency's policies and practices meet or exceed the standards established by the council in the areas of administration, training, and operations.

Article 36, § 846-h of the New York State Executive Law establishes the Law Enforcement Agency Accreditation Council (the council). The council is the authoritative body responsible for guiding the direction of the program; developing model standards designed to promote excellence and professionalism in the field of law enforcement; and developing policy to establish program rules and expectations. The council meets quarterly to conduct business, including awarding accreditation to agencies that have demonstrated that they meet the program requirements and are compliant with the standards.

The Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) Office of Public Safety (OPS) administers the program in accordance with the council policies. Accreditation Unit staff members provide training to members of agencies seeking to become accredited; and to assessors, who are independent contractors assigned to verify an agency's compliance with program standards. In addition, OPS program staff members develop resource materials; provide technical assistance to both applicant and accredited agencies to assist them in meeting their goals; conduct site visits of accredited agencies; and provide support-staff services to the council.

The program is made up of 110 different standards, as outlined in this Standards and Compliance Verification Manual. Of the 110 total standards, there are 51 Administration, 12 Training, and 47 Operations standards, as described below:

- Administration standards encompass such areas as general management, personnel, and relationships with other agencies. They also address organizational issues such as the agency's mission, the delineation of responsibility, and delegation of authority.
- Training standards incorporate many requirements that have already been established by the State's Municipal Training Council. The standards are divided into four categories: Basic, In-service, Supervisory, and Records.
- Operations standards impact the ways in which agencies conduct the bulk of their crime fighting responsibilities. Major topics include patrol, traffic, criminal investigations, and unusual occurrences.

The standards can be found in this manual, beginning on page 20.

Composition of the Standards

- Standard - the actual Standard is always in bold font. Agencies are required to meet every component of each standard to be considered in compliance.

- Commentary - many of the standards are accompanied by an italicized Commentary which offers background information, clarifies the intent of the standard, and provides guidance on implementing the standard in some instances. For more information, please see the Council Policy, The Role of Commentaries in Establishing the Intent of Program Standards.
- Compliance Verification Strategies - each standard is accompanied by Compliance Verification Strategies, the section below the box. Compliance Verification Strategies provide agencies (and assessors) with examples of what can be provided or reviewed to demonstrate compliance with the standard. Agency staff should use these strategies as a guide when determining what to include in the file folder or have available when the agency is assessed.

Participating agencies are expected to implement all standards in place during their period of accreditation. Please refer to the Council Policy, Program Standards that Do Not Apply to Every Agency for information on exceptions.

It is important to note that while the standards generally indicate what must be done to earn accreditation, the chief law enforcement officer has considerable flexibility in determining how the agency will implement the specific requirements needed to comply with the standards. Program assessors have been advised to expect variation in agency policies and procedures when conducting assessments.

Becoming an Accredited Law Enforcement Agency

APPLICATION: The accreditation process begins when an agency submits a formal application which must be signed by both the agency's chief law enforcement officer and the municipality's chief elected official. The chief law enforcement officer must also sign and submit the 'Agency Participation Agreement' which outlines the responsibilities of the agency and the Accreditation Council.

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT: A program manager must be appointed to oversee development and then maintenance of the program. Generally, Program Manager Training is held at least once or twice per year, and it's important that any newly appointed program manager attend so they are familiar with the program requirements. Chief law enforcement officers and other command staff are also encouraged to attend since their involvement is crucial to the success of the program.

The program manager is responsible for ensuring the agency has in place policies or procedures to meet every standard. They may begin by identifying standards that are already met by existing policies/practices within the agency and then work toward developing policies for those standards that are not met through existing policy. In general, agency staff can expect three levels of policy development:

1. If a current policy or practice meets a standard(s), preparation may be as simple as the chief law enforcement officer signing off on the policy to verify it is still in effect.
2. If a current policy or practice is in place that addresses portions of a standard(s) but not every component, adjustments to the current policy/practice will need to be made to meet the standard.
3. Many times, brand new policies and/or procedures need to be developed and implemented to meet the standards.

All policies related to accreditation standards must be fully implemented and distributed to affected staff no less than 90 days prior to an agency undergoing an on-site assessment. (See the Council Policy, Dissemination of Written Directives for more information.)

Finally, file folders for each standard must be developed, as they are the mechanism by which the program manager can organize the standards, policies, and documentation; and they serve as the main method by which the assessors will verify compliance with the standards. 'Hardcopy' file folders and electronic files are both acceptable means of documenting program compliance.

ASSESSMENT: Once an agency has developed and implemented policies and procedures that are aligned with the program standards and created file folders that contain proof of compliance, OPS program staff will coordinate an 'on-site' assessment. The assessments are conducted by independent assessors that have significant experience with the accreditation program. Each assessor that DCJS contracts with is required to meet minimum qualifications; be approved by the council; undergo training by DCJS; and follow specific guidelines to ensure that every agency is assessed objectively and equally.

Agencies are evaluated on their policies and practices as they pertain to the standards. The methods that will be used to determine compliance are:

- Evaluating Written Directives for Compliance with Standard. Written directives can include general or special orders, standard operating procedures, policies, procedures, or rules and regulations.
- Documentation of Compliance. Assessors will look for proof in the file folders that the written directives are up-to-date and are being properly implemented by agency personnel. Proof may include, but not be limited to, reports, files, logs, lesson plans, incident reports, personnel files, and performance evaluations.
- Interviews with Agency Staff. Assessors will interview department members – some that are identified in advance by the chief law enforcement officer and others at random - to evaluate their familiarity with written directives for particular standards. Staff members identified by the agency head prior to the on-site assessment are expected to be available to the assessors.
- General Observations. This involves verification of standard compliance through direct observation by the assessors (for example, the evidence storage facility.)

Prior to the on-site assessment, a Standard Compliance Report (page 18 of this manual) must be completed for every standard. This form is intended for use by both agency staff and the assessors, enabling both parties to quickly determine how compliance is being met.

Assessments are not intended to be adversarial. The assessment team may at times have to work a bit harder to help an agency correct minor errors in their policies and/or documentation, and they will likely use this as an opportunity to provide agency program staff with additional training on program requirements. This is intended to be helpful and give a new agency a better understanding of the program. Minor deficiencies that can be easily corrected on-site generally won't keep the team from recommending accreditation to the council. However, agencies that require a great deal of additional work to bring them into compliance could face having to delay achieving their status of accreditation until they have more time to spend preparing their policies and files. OPS program staff members can assist in determining an agency's readiness for assessment. Also, most assessors cite that agencies that have had a mock assessment conducted prior to their assessment are better prepared, so the council strongly encourages this as a final task in the preparation process.

Before the assessment team concludes their on-site assessment, they will meet with the agency head and program manager to discuss their team's findings. If compliance is a concern, the assessors will make them aware of any reluctance to recommend accreditation to the council. The agency, assessment team, and OPS program staff can then determine the best course of action prior to the report being forwarded to the council.

ACCREDITATION: The Law Enforcement Accreditation Council meets quarterly (in the months of March, June, September and December.) Agencies that are recommended for accreditation will be invited to attend the next scheduled meeting to receive their Certificate of Accreditation upon a vote of approval by the council. Agencies are accredited for a period of five years.

PROGRAM MAINTENANCE: To remain in good standing, agencies must maintain compliance with all program standards throughout the period of accreditation. The key to successfully maintaining accreditation hinges on the commitment that the agency makes to the program. It's imperative that the accredited agency program staff work to keep its files, policies, and records up-to-date. Accredited agencies must submit the Annual Compliance Survey each year to document areas of compliance and notify OPS program staff of any areas of non-compliance that would require corrective action.

Becoming accredited may seem overwhelming at times, but OPS program staff is available to offer technical assistance throughout the process. In addition, a variety of useful tools and publications are available on our website at <http://www.criminaljustice.ny.gov/ops/docs/index.htm>. Under 'Forms', the Master Plan and the Log Sheet can be very useful in keeping agency program staff organized and the development of the program on track.

For more in-depth information about the Law Enforcement Accreditation Program, from the website above click on 'Publications'. There you will find the Blueprint for Effective Law Enforcement, which provides overall program information; and the Implementation Guide, which covers the process of implementing a program within an agency.

DCJS RESOURCES FOR AGENCIES SEEKING ACCREDITATION

There are a variety of resources available to both agencies seeking to become accredited and those seeking to maintain that status. All agencies, whether accredited or simply those that have submitted an application, are assigned an Accreditation Unit staff member as a single point of contact. Your assigned staff member will be available to answer questions, provide guidance and information about the program, and, in some cases, visit your agency to provide on-site technical assistance. All agencies are provided with the name and contact information of your assigned staff member.

In addition to Accreditation Unit staff, the Division of Criminal Justice Services webpage provides a wide range of information, forms and publications to assist agencies in their accreditation journey. From the main DCJS webpage – www.criminaljustice.ny.gov – on the left side of the page under Law Enforcement, click on “Accreditation”. Once you are on the Accreditation Introduction page, you can navigate through the resources by using the Local Menu on the right side of the page. There you will find information related to:

- Program History;
- The Accreditation Process;
- The Accreditation Council;
- List of Accredited Agencies, and;
- Frequently Asked Questions.

Also available are a variety of forms and publications including:

- The Initial Application and Participation Agreement;
- The Assessment Agreement (to be used when your agency is ready for an assessment);
- The Master Plan;
- The Log Sheet;
- The Law Enforcement Accreditation Council Policy Manual, and;
- The Implementation Guide.

The DCJS Accreditation Unit Staff strongly encourages agencies seeking to become accredited to familiarize themselves with these and other forms and publications. Of special importance is the Council Policy Manual, which outlines much of what an agency must do to become and stay accredited.

MUNICIPAL POLICE TRAINING COUNCIL RESOURCES

The New York State Municipal Police Training Council (MPTC) adopts model policies and guidelines in an effort to assist the law enforcement community. While agencies are not mandated to adopt these policies or follow the guidelines, they can be used in whole or in part to provide a sound basis for policy and procedural development.

The model policies and guidelines listed here, along with any new ones adopted after the release date of this manual, may be obtained through the eJusticeNY Integrated Justice Portal or by contacting DCJS at (518) 457-2667 and selecting option 1.

MPTC Model Policies

Administration and Maintenance of Intranasal Naloxone

This policy establishes broad guidelines and regulations for the use of naloxone by trained law enforcement personnel to treat and reduce injuries and fatalities due to opioid-involved overdoses.

Body Worn Camera Model Policy

Provides a template for the use of body-worn cameras including when they should be utilized and how the information captured by the cameras should be stored and protected.

Social Media

This policy provides agencies with guidelines for the appropriate use of social media as sanctioned by the agency and by its employees as individuals.

Unmanned Aerial Vehicle Model Policy

This policy is intended to provide guidelines for the proper usage of these vehicles; the maintenance, storage, retrieval and dissemination of any digital multimedia evidence (DME) captured by UAVs; and to minimize risk to law enforcement personnel, the public and property during the operation of UAVs while protecting the right to privacy of citizens.

Use of Force Model Policy

This comprehensive policy provides agencies with a template for sound use of force policies including when force may be used and when it is prohibited; the type of force that is allowed to be used; recording and reviewing use of force incidents; and recommended training on use of force. As of June 2019, agencies are required to adopt Use of Force Policies consistent with the MPTC Model Policy.

MPTC Recommended Guidelines

Recommended Guidelines for the Use of Conducted Energy Devices

Conducted energy devices have become a popular tool for subduing a suspect who is violent or non-compliant; however, despite their usefulness as a less lethal way to obtain compliance, they are not without risk. The Recommended Guidelines for the Use of Conducted Energy Devices provides law enforcement agencies with information that will assist them in using these devices in a manner that maximizes their efficiency and minimizes the likelihood of unintended consequences, thereby protecting both suspects and officers from serious injury.

COMPLIANCE AUDITS AND CRITICAL STANDARDS

In 2011, changes to the program made provisions for certain agencies to undergo a Compliance Audit, as opposed to a full reassessment, when seeking reaccreditation. A Compliance Audit consists of an assessment of all approved Critical Standards and no less than 20 other 'essential' standards (any standard that has not been designated as a critical standard). The approved Critical Standards are listed on the next page and are designated throughout this manual.

Critical Standards are those that have historically had the highest degree of liability for a law enforcement agency or those that have been problematic in terms of being implemented properly by accredited agencies. Agency accreditation program staff should familiarize themselves with the Critical Standards so as to ensure that the files are always up-to-date and appropriately documented.

Despite the new Compliance Audit procedure, all accredited agencies must continue to maintain their program files for all standards as outlined in the council policy Agency Responsibilities Following Accreditation. This is important because a) each assessor will determine just prior to their file review which of the essential files they want to review; b) assessors have the discretion to ask to review additional files if time permits or if they believe it's necessary to ensure compliance with the program; c) if the assessor conducting the compliance audit determines the files they have reviewed are insufficient, they can recommend that the compliance audit be converted to a full reassessment, and; d) not every agency will be eligible to undergo a compliance audit every time they are reassessed.

For more information on the Compliance Audit, please refer to the council policy entitled Reaccreditation.

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

CRITICAL STANDARDS

The following Critical Standards are to be used in conjunction with the Law Enforcement Accreditation Council Reaccreditation Policy. These standards are required to be reviewed as part of all compliance audits. The list represents the standards that have historically held the highest potential for liability to a law enforcement agency.

PLEASE NOTE - accredited agencies must establish and maintain compliance with all program standards in order to maintain their accredited status.

ADMINISTRATIVE STANDARDS

I. ADMINISTRATION

THIS PAGE LEFT BLANK

Section 1 – Agency Role

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

1.1 Mission

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 1.1 The agency has a written mission statement that defines its role.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written mission statement is available for review.
2. The mission statement is posted in conspicuous places in the department such as the lobby, roll call room, or staff break room.
3. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify that they clearly understand the agency's role and authority.

1.2 Goals, Objectives and Evaluation of Goals

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 1.2 The agency develops annual goals and objectives that are available to all personnel. Each year the goals and objectives will be reviewed and a written evaluation of the degree to which the agency has attained its goals and objectives will be prepared and made available for review by all personnel.

Commentary: By establishing and routinely updating goals and objectives, an agency has a basis for measuring progress, as well as for ensuring direction and unity of purpose. A written evaluation must be prepared each year.

When developing goals and objectives, bear in mind that a goal is an aim; something that is desired that has not already been accomplished. An example of a goal is "The ABC Police Department will establish a K9 Unit." It speaks to establishing something new, something to work towards. "The ABC Police Department will continue to utilize its K9 Unit when appropriate." is NOT a goal; it is simply a statement that continues business as usual and gives an agency nothing to strive for.

An objective establishes a series of concrete steps to take to meet the goal. They are actionable and measurable. Objectives to meet the goal of establishing the K9 Unit might include 1) Assign and train a police officer; 2) obtain a K9 officer; 3) Equip a K9 patrol vehicle; etc. Objectives support the attainment of the goal.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A current list of agency goals and objectives are available for review.
2. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify that the information has been made available for review.
3. Prior years' goals and objectives, and the evaluations of those goals, are available in cases of reaccreditation to demonstrate that they are updated and evaluated annually.

Section 2 – Organization

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

2.1 Organizational Structure

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 2.1 The organizational structure of the agency is clearly defined, up-to-date, and available to all members of the agency through:

- A. An organizational chart which reflects the chain of command and lines of communication within the agency and is organized in a hierarchy, and:
- B. A staffing table which provides information about the number of all personnel (including sworn and non-sworn), by rank or job title, within each component of the organization.

Commentary: When an agency changes its organizational structure, both the organizational chart and staffing table should be updated to reflect the changes.

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the agency organizational chart is available for review. It should be complete and up-to-date, and include the chain of command and lines of authority for communication.
2. A copy of the agency staffing table, which illustrates the agency's authorized strength and units or components by rank and title, is available for review.
3. If the authorized strength is established through local laws or collective bargaining agreements, copies of the documents are provided.
4. Interviews with agency personnel to verify their knowledge of the chain of command and lines of authority.

2.2 Job Classifications

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 2.2 The agency has a statement of the duties and responsibilities prepared for each sworn and non-sworn job classification or assignment within the agency.

Commentary: Each job classification or assignment should have a comparable description by rank and position. Examples of job classifications and assignments may include, but not be limited to police officers who are assigned to traffic, patrol, juvenile and detective units.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. The statements of duties and responsibilities associated with each job classification or assignment are available for review.
2. Interviews and/or observations of agency personnel can help verify that they understand the duties and responsibilities associated with their job classification.

2.3 Written Directives - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 2.3 The agency adheres to an established system for the development and promulgation of agency policies, procedures, rules and regulations which:

A. Provides procedures describing how written directives are:

1. formatted
2. indexed
3. purged
4. updated, and
5. disseminated

B. Vests in the chief law enforcement officer or designee(s) the authority to issue, modify or approve written directives;

C. Requires that all written directives are reviewed at least once during the five-year period of accreditation;

D. Provides a procedure for staff review of proposed written directives prior to their implementation; and

E. Requires a procedure to assure the receipt of the directives by all affected components and personnel.

Commentary: An agency should establish a written directive system to ensure that employees receive and understand the individual policies and procedures and rules and regulations relating to the performance of their duties.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A description of the system used by the agency is available for review.
2. Agency files containing records and/or logs used to track the development of written directives are provided. The files may include approved written directives that are appropriately signed and dated; and records that track the development of written directives, (e.g., from initial proposals through reviews, updates, revisions, final approval, etc.).
3. The method by which written directives are disseminated is described, and proof is provided that agency personnel have received these directives (e.g., signed or initialed receipts).
4. Assessors may randomly review the manuals of agency personnel to ensure that the manuals are current and up-to-date.

2.5 Map of Patrol Areas

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 2.5 The agency, for purposes of appropriate distribution of patrol personnel, periodically reviews staffing needs and maintains a map of its service area organized into identified patrol area(s) which suit community needs.

Commentary: This standard encourages the agency to distribute personnel according to calls for service, geographic limitations, community needs and personnel limitations.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. An up-to-date map of the agency's service area is available for review. (The service area map indicates how patrol personnel are assigned according to patrol areas, i.e., how the map is utilized for the purpose of distributing patrol personnel.)
2. Provide a description of the method used to determine and/or update patrol area boundaries.
3. Outdated service area maps are provided to verify that the agency periodically updates or reviews such maps.

2.7 Responsibility and Authority - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

- STANDARD 2.7 The agency has a written directive requiring responsibility be accompanied by commensurate authority. The directive shall include provisions for:
- A. Each employee being accountable for the use of delegated authority;
 - B. Supervisory personnel being accountable for the performance of employees under their immediate control;
 - C. All sworn personnel being required to obey any lawful order of a superior transmitted by any duly authorized agent of that superior, regardless of rank involved, and;
 - D. Procedures to be followed when a conflicting order or directive is received including when to notify command officers of conflicting orders.

Commentary: The intent of this standard is to establish guidelines for the delegation of authority, and provide open communication among ranks without compromising emergency operations.

At every level within the agency, personnel should be given the authority to make decisions necessary for the effective execution of their responsibilities. Each officer is responsible for acts and omissions while on duty and must be accountable for this authority. In addition, having a procedure on how to handle conflicting orders will provide personnel with the appropriate guidance in situations where immediate obedience may be necessary in order to protect life or protect the welfare of the public.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify agency compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. Other strategies identified by the agency may also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify their understanding of and compliance with this standard.

Section 3 – Health and Safety

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

3.1 Infectious Diseases

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 3.1 The agency has a written directive that addresses infectious diseases to include prevention and post exposure response. The directive will address the following at a minimum:

- A. The designation of a position responsible for the coordination of the infectious diseases policy/procedures;
- B. Precautions associated with public safety personnel in the performance of their duties;
- C. Protective equipment;
- D. Reporting procedures for possible exposure;
- E. Provisions for disposal of contaminated materials;
- F. Provisions for medical care;
- G. Training; and
- H. Record keeping confidentiality.

Commentary: It is the responsibility of the agency to take all reasonable measures to assist its members in performing their duties in a safe and effective manner. HIV/AIDS, hepatitis viruses, other viruses, and communicable diseases may be contracted through exposure to infected blood, several types of bodily secretions, and contact with contaminated materials. It is necessary to continuously provide employees with information and safety equipment to prevent and minimize their risk of exposure, and to implement post exposure reporting, evaluation and treatment for all members exposed to these diseases. The agency must ensure that the directive is compliant with OSHA and Public Employee's Safety and Health (PEOSH) requirements. PEOSH requirements are found in 12 NYCRR Parts 800-830.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Interview(s) with agency personnel responsible for the communicable disease program to verify their understanding of and compliance with this standard.
3. Interviews with agency personnel to verify their knowledge of and understanding of the directive.
4. Review of agency training records related to this standard.
5. Observation of protective equipment.

II. INTERNAL ADMINISTRATION

Section 5 – Fiscal Management

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

5.2 Accounting – System and Responsibility

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 5.2 The agency has a written directive or other documentation that outlines an accounting system for its budget including:

- A. Designating the position or component responsible for fiscal management, and;
- B. The preparation of at least quarterly status reports showing:
 - Initial appropriation for accounts or programs;
 - Balances at the commencement of each period;
 - Expenditures and encumbrances made during the period; and
 - Unencumbered balances.

Commentary: Due to the diversity of agencies in the state, it is recognized that there will be different types of fiscal systems in place. Allowances will be made for agencies which have fiscal systems not under the direct control of the chief law enforcement officer. However, any such system must give the chief law enforcement officer the ability to determine the fiscal status of the agency's budget at any given time.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. The written directive or other documentation describing the internal accounting system used by the agency is provided.
2. Copies of agency financial reports are available. The reports are up-to-date and contain all elements required by the standard.
3. All budget forms and documents used in the preparation of financial reports are available for review.
4. Interview(s) with personnel responsible for preparing these quarterly status reports to verify staff knowledge of and compliance with the system.

5.3 Safeguarding Cash - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 5.3 The agency has a written directive that outlines procedures for collecting, safeguarding, and disbursing cash, to include at a minimum:

- A. Maintenance of an allotment system or, alternatively, records of appropriations among organizational components;
- B. Preparation of financial statements;
- C. Internal monitoring; and
- D. Identification of position(s) authorized to accept or disburse funds.

Commentary: Procedures developed to implement this standard will ensure that cash is properly handled within the agency. The system may be simple or complex. Examples of receipt and disbursement of cash may include, but not be limited to, report fees, bail transactions, petty cash, and informant and drug funds.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Interview(s) with personnel authorized to manage funds may be conducted to verify their knowledge of and compliance with the directive.
3. Records, financial statements, and any forms or records used for internal monitoring are available for review.
4. Observation of the facility where cash is kept and evaluate safeguarding techniques.

Section 6 – Agency Property

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

6.1 Requisitioning Property

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 6.1 The agency has a written directive that governs the procurement or requisitioning of agency-owned property.

- A. The directive must also outline procedures for inventory control of property, equipment and other assets owned and used by the agency; and
- B. Designates the position(s) responsible for the management, accountability, distribution and issuance of agency-owned property.

Commentary: This standard requires the agency to establish formal control over the requisitioning, inventory and issuance of supplies and property. Large agencies, particularly decentralized ones, may find it very difficult to have this function centralized. This standard can be met as long as the agency has formal control of the process.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. A review of agency records to verify that procedures mandated by the written directive are being followed.
3. Interview(s) with the personnel responsible for this function to verify their knowledge of and compliance with the directive.
4. Inspection of agency property, equipment and other assets to verify that inventory records are accurate.

6.2 Safeguarding Agency Weapons - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 6.2 The agency has a written directive that outlines the procedures used for the secure storage, control, inventory and safeguarding of agency weapons and ammunition maintained in an armory or other secure setting.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Interviews with agency personnel to verify their knowledge of and compliance with the directive.
3. Observation of the armory or similar setting to verify compliance with the standard.

Section 7 – Non-Agency Property

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

7.1 Evidence and Non-Agency Property Management - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

- STANDARD 7.1 The agency has a written directive that details its procedures for the collection, maintenance of chain-of-custody, documentation, classification, labeling, packaging, secure storage, transfer from and return to evidence storage, and disposition of all evidentiary and non-agency property within its custody. The directive designates the position(s) accountable for the control of all such property. The directive requires that the collecting person(s) enter the property into secure storage prior to the end of the shift in which it was obtained.
- A. A chain-of-custody record shall be maintained from the time of collection/receipt to final disposition/purging. The record shall detail the name and signature (or equivalent identification) of each person or name the location (e.g., evidence locker, impound area) taking possession of an item of evidence, the date of receipt, transfer, or destruction, and the description or unique identifier of the evidence.
 - B. The labeling of property must include as much data as possible, to include information such as inventory/control number, incident/case number, time and date of seizure, source/owner of item, character of incident, description of item (i.e., make, model, serial number, etc.), and the storage location of the item. If an agency utilizes computer-generated, barcoded labels, the incident/case number must also be printed on the label in alphanumeric format.
 - C. Documentation of such property must include inventory/control number, incident/case number, time and date of seizure, source/owner of item, incident type, description of item, type of item (e.g., evidence, found property, safekeeping), persons' name and/or identification number of person collecting the item, investigating officer, storage location, and purge review date.
 - D. The directive must address the procedures for the packaging of items so that evidence is not permitted to be tampered with, contaminated, or contaminate other evidence.
 - E. Records required pertaining to transfers from and return to evidence storage (e.g., for crime laboratory processing, latent print analysis, judicial proceedings) must include descriptive information for the item, date and time of transfer, the person's identity who receives the item(s), the reason for the transfer, the name and location to which the item was transferred, and a complete list of examinations performed (if transferred for testing).
 - F. Disposition documentation required by the directive must include the position(s) authorized to approve disposal, property retention schedule, witness requirements, and authorized method(s) of destruction. Disposition procedures shall include the destruction of contraband, due diligence in contacting property owners, return of items to the owner, auction of non-contraband evidence and non-agency property, and the transfer of items to other law enforcement agencies.
 - G. All money, firearms, controlled substances, and high-value items must be adequately secured by or within secondary secure storage (e.g., safes, caged areas, locked cabinets, wall-mounted racks with security cable/wire rope) inside of designated property storage areas.
 - H. Right of Refusal must be addressed in the written directive to include identifying problems with submitted items, the method(s) to obtain item(s) from property/evidence room for correction, and the procedure required to resubmit corrected item(s) to the property/evidence room.

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 7.1

Commentary: Nothing in this standard should be construed to indicate the necessity to develop or implement a computer based property management system by any agency. The requirements set forth in the standard are applicable to both handwritten and computerized property management methods. Chain of custody may be maintained without written signatures in computer based evidence management systems.

The right of refusal allows an evidence custodian to refuse to accept evidence submissions. It is a tool provided to the evidence custodian by a chief executive to maintain good practices in evidence management. It gives them clear authority to ensure necessary data (chain of custody, location of seizure) is completely documented, evidence is packaged pursuant to procedures, safety is maintained (submission of accelerants for storage in a property room), and provides consistency among agency staff.

Agencies may consider developing a Property and Evidence Room manual that outlines the responsibilities and tasks for personnel within the property / evidence room. Other topics that may be included in the manual are staffing, hours of operation, room design, alarms & security, and audits, inventories & inspections.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the directive is available for review.
2. Provide records, logs or other documentation used in this system for review by the assessors.
3. Review agency files to verify that the record keeping system is consistent with agency procedures.
4. Random selection and examination of evidentiary items to verify that the procedures are being followed.
5. Interview(s) with personnel responsible for handling, storing and retrieving evidentiary items to verify their knowledge of and compliance with the directive.
6. Observation of the security measure employed.
7. Provide documentation describing any prescription drug "take back" programs the agency participates in. This should include written documentation of the dates of such programs and that the agency complied with the program guidelines.

7.2 Evidence Custodian Training

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 7.2 The agency requires that all personnel assigned the duties of property room/evidence custodian successfully complete a course in property/evidence room management within one year of being assigned such duties.

Commentary: The Property / Evidence Room Management Course established by the Municipal Police Training Council is an example of a course that meets this standard. Although this standard is intended to apply to assignments made after the date of this manual, it is strongly recommended that all evidence custodians receive this training regardless of their date of appointment or how long they have been serving in that role.

Compliance Verification Strategies

1. Copies of training records will be made available for the current Evidence Custodian and others who may have fulfilled that role throughout the period of accreditation.
2. If the current evidence custodian has not been in the position for one year, proof that the training is scheduled within that year timeframe is sufficient.

7.3 Property Audit and Inventory Management - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 7.3 The agency has a written directive requiring personnel not normally charged with the custody of evidentiary and non-agency property to annually perform both a sample audit and a sample inventory of all such property. The inventory and the audit are not to be conducted within four months of each other and will not include the same items unless total available sample size dictates otherwise.

- A. The property and evidence audit shall include an inventory and a review of the property records for each item to ensure compliance with written directives. The minimum amount of property to be sampled during the audit shall be five (5) percent of the agency's total property room inventory or fifty (50) items, whichever is less.
- B. The property and evidence inventory shall consist of an eyes-on inspection of items to ensure accountability. The minimum amount of items to be sampled during the inventory shall be ten (10) percent of the agency's total property room inventory or one hundred (100) items, whichever is less.
- C. A single property and evidence audit of all property shall meet the audit and inventory requirements as noted in A and B.

The inventories and audits must include a sampling of money, firearms, controlled substances, and high-value items each time they are conducted.

The directive requires a sample audit, utilizing the aforementioned sample size guidelines, to be conducted whenever a new property / evidence custodian is designated.

A report shall be completed identifying the property that was inventoried and audited.

Commentary: The audit and inventory of property may be conducted by an outside agency if desired. When determining sample items, a single item (e.g., a handgun) and a single package with multiple items (e.g., evidence bag with 50 tablets of a controlled substance) will both be considered a single item.

Agencies may conduct two audits annually versus an inventory and an audit if so desired.

A Property and Evidence Audit is defined as "a review and examination of property inventory and related documentation to ensure compliance with established written directives and to recommend changes to those directives if necessary."

A Property and Evidence Inventory is defined as "matching a piece of property or evidence to a list."

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify agency compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Interview(s) with the property custodian(s) can be conducted to verify that a periodic inventory does occur.
3. Interviews with personnel who are not charged with the custody of property but who have periodically performed audits.

Standard 7.3 (Continued)

4. A review of completed agency records to determine that periodic inventories are being done and the records are correct and properly annotated.
5. A review of agency records or files that were completed the last time a new property custodian was designated.

Section 8 - Records

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

8.1 Calls for Service

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 8.1 The agency must maintain a record for each call for service and include at a minimum:

- A. The control number;
- B. Nature of call;
- C. Date and time of call;
- D. Location of call;
- E. Names of person(s) involved; and
- F. Action, if any, taken by the agency.

Commentary: The intent of this standard is to maintain the integrity of the agency record system to ensure that calls for service are not selectively or randomly omitted or deleted. It is important that all call activity is available for review.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify agency compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Review of agency files of complaints/crimes, arrest and traffic accident reports to verify existence and completeness of such records.
2. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify their knowledge of and compliance with this standard.
3. Randomly track agency records through the system to verify compliance with all components of this standard.
4. Comparison of the agency log/blotter with reports that are on file to verify compliance.

8.2 Crime Reporting

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 8.2 The agency must maintain full participation in the state Incident-Based Reporting program or the National Uniform Crime Reporting System.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Compliance may be met by supplying copies of uniform crime report submissions; documentation outlining agency procedures for full participation in these systems; and/or official correspondence (e.g., letters from state agencies) that document the agency's current participation.
2. Copy of the DCJS "Use and Dissemination Agreement."
3. Interviews with the person(s) responsible for preparing uniform crime reports.

8.5 Records Retention

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 8.5 The agency must maintain a records retention schedule, either through a written directive, a schedule, or chart, in accordance with the records retention and disposition schedule issued by the Commissioner of the State Department of Education [schedule MU-1 (9 NYCRR section 185.11) for use by city, town, and village agencies OR schedule CO-2 (9 NYCRR section 185.13) for use by county agencies].

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Documentation outlining the record keeping function should be available for review.
2. Provide a copy of the resolution passed by municipality adopting the applicable records retention and disposition schedule.
3. Provide agency records illustrating compliance with retention schedule(s).
4. Interview(s) with agency personnel involved in record maintenance to verify their knowledge of and compliance with this standard.

8.7 Records Management System - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 8.7 The agency has a records management system which ensures that reports are maintained and filed in an efficient and functional manner. The records management system shall include provisions for:

- A. The filing and retrieving of reports;
- B. The security of reports;
- C. The preparation of statistical and data summaries of agency activities for planning, staffing, budgeting and public information purposes ;
- D. Maintenance of an arrest history record on each person arrested by the agency, including as much biographical data as possible;
- E. Supervisory review of reports for completeness and accuracy.

Commentary: The intent of the standard is to have information readily available. It is recognized that there will be different types of systems, such as a master name index, a daily blotter or a computerized information system.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Review of agency records to verify that a record management system does exist.
2. Examples of statistical/data summaries are available for review.
3. Examples of various reports such as crimes reported, arrests, incidents, traffic accidents, number of complaints, unusual occurrences, and summonses.
4. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify their knowledge of and compliance with specific procedures.

8.11 Sealing Orders

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 8.11 The agency complies with all court mandated sealing orders.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. The documentation that establishes this process is available for review.
2. Interview(s) with agency personnel responsible for this function to verify their understanding of and compliance with this standard.
3. A review of agency files to verify that this process is being performed appropriately.

8.12 Record System for Warrants

ADMINISTRATION

- STANDARD 8.12 The agency has a written directive requiring a records system for warrants which includes:
- A. 24-hour access;
 - B. A procedure ensuring due diligence in seeking wanted persons;
 - C. A process for ensuring warrants remain current and enforceable, and;
 - D. A designated position responsible for control of the warrant system.

Compliance Verification Strategies

1. Examine the warrant file system and observe the procedure used for 24 hour access.
2. Interview(s) with personnel responsible for maintaining this system to verify their understanding of and compliance with this standard.
3. Interview(s) with patrol officers to verify their knowledge of the record system.
4. If the agency is not responsible for this function, assessors may contact the appropriate agency to verify compliance.

8.13 Legal Process

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 8.13 The agency requires that information regarding each item of legal process, including warrants, civil and/or criminal, is recorded. A record of attempts to serve each legal process document is maintained.

This information must include, but not be limited to the following elements (when applicable):

- A. Date and time received;

III. PERSONNEL

THIS PAGE LEFT BLANK

Section 11 - Recruitment

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

11.1 Personnel Recruitment

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 11.1 The agency has a written directive that outlines all components of the selection process for entry-level officers including the position(s) or other entity responsible for administering selection activities; and the position(s) or entity authorized to appoint them. The selection process will include, at a minimum, the following requirements:

- A. A job announcement must be posted for every entry-level law enforcement officer position describing the duties, minimum qualifications, the application process and noting that the agency is an Equal Opportunity Employer;
- B. All candidates must pass a written test as part of the selection process;
- C. All verbal and written tests used in the selection process are administered, scored, evaluated and interpreted in a uniform and non-discriminatory manner.

Commentary: The intent of this standard is to make sure that the general population receives adequate notice of any openings in the agency and to ensure that all individuals selected for an entry level law enforcement officer position are selected using the same criteria across the board. The Council recognizes that Civil Service rules and regulations, in particular those that apply to part-time employees, may vary among municipalities and that agencies should abide by those rules and regulations.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Copies of job announcements for every entry-level position are available for review. (Civil service announcements, provided they include the required information, are acceptable to demonstrate compliance.)
3. Documentation describing the methods by which verbal and written tests are administered, scored, evaluated and interpreted is available for review.
4. Examples of documents such as written instructions, answer sheets, practice problems, time limits are provided. Such components should be standardized.
5. Records of any verbal or written test results which have been scored, evaluated and interpreted according to the criteria used are available for review.
6. Interviews with personnel who have been through the selection process and with those responsible for the function verify that appropriate procedures were followed.
7. If the agency relies on an external organization to administer and/or process, all relevant documentation pertaining to the above is available for review.

Section 12 - Selection

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

12.1 Physical and Psychological Fitness Requirements

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 12.1 The agency requires that candidates accepted for law enforcement officer positions meet or exceed the following standards:

- A. "Medical and Physical Fitness Standards and Procedures for Police Officer Candidates" established by the Municipal Police Training Council and/or current applicable law (9 NYCRR Part 6000).
 - A licensed physician or practitioner must use valid and non-discriminatory procedures to examine each candidate and determine if they meet this standard.
- B. Age requirements as per Civil Service Law Section 58 and/or other applicable law. (Does not apply to agencies that are permitted to appoint non-competitive police officers.)
- C. An emotional stability and psychological fitness screening is conducted for all police officer candidates (e.g. new hires, rehires, lateral appointments, full-time and part-time). The evaluation must be conducted by a qualified professional.
 - In cases of part-time employees, rehires and lateral appointments, psychological testing conducted at any time by another law enforcement agency may be considered provided the candidate has maintained a valid police training certificate pursuant to General Municipal Law 209-q.

Commentary: The purpose of this standard is to ensure that all law enforcement officers are physically and psychologically fit to be employed in the position and, to the degree possible, subjected to the same criteria for employment. The requirement of existing pre-employment psychological assessments for part-time, lateral and re-hired officers is intended to ensure all candidates employed by an accredited agency have undergone this important step at least once in their career.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify agency compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Assessors may review agency personnel records to determine compliance with the standards established by the Municipal Police Training Council or other applicable law.
2. For those agencies that are not permitted to make non-competitive police officer appointments, assessors may verify that those appointments meet or exceed the standards established by the agency's civil service entity.
3. The name of the licensed physician or practitioner and components of the standard physical exam are available for review.
4. Review of agency personnel files to verify results of the physical exams are kept on file for all new hires.

5. For lateral appointments, rehires and part-time employees, an attestation from the agency that conducted psychological testing in the past is maintained and available for review.

12.5 Background Investigation - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 12.5 The agency requires that a background investigation of each candidate for a sworn position (entry level and lateral appointments) or any civilian candidate with access to law enforcement sensitive information is conducted. An informational package consisting of written instructions and a checklist of tasks that must be accomplished is provided to each officer who conducts such investigations. A background investigation must include, but not be limited to:

- a. Fingerprint-based Criminal History Record;
- b. Family;
- c. Education;
- d. Residences (past and present);
- e. Work Record;
- f. DMV Record;
- g. Military History;
- h. County Records such as liens and judgments;
- i. Organizations and Affiliations;
- j. References and Social Contacts, and;
- k. Credit Record

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify agency compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Documentation describing the procedures for such background investigations and the type of information that is gathered is available for review.2. Review of all forms, records, or reports used for background investigations.
3. Review of agency files containing records of completed background investigations.
4. A copy of the informational package that is provided to officers who conduct such investigations is available for review.
5. All documentation examined should demonstrate that background investigations are standardized (e.g., recording/reporting forms, criteria for evaluation, and instruction and task check lists for officers who use them).
6. Interview(s) with agency personnel who serve as background investigators to verify their knowledge of and compliance with this standard.

12.6 Oral Interviews

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 12.6 Any candidate being considered for a sworn (entry level and lateral appointments) position is interviewed prior to their appointment. Such interviews will employ a set of uniform questions, and the results obtained are recorded on standardized forms. At least one person who participates in the interview process will be a sworn member of the department.

Commentary: This standard is not meant to limit the interview to specific questions but to ensure equity and uniformity in the interview process by asking all candidates the same questions so they may present their own views. It can also provide an opportunity to gather additional information that could be made available to background investigators.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify agency compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Interviews with personnel responsible to verify their knowledge of and compliance with this standard.
2. The set of uniform questions utilized by the agency are available for review.
3. Examples of the standardized recording forms used by the agency are available for review.
4. Copies of the standardized rating scales used for evaluation are available for review.
5. Review of agency files containing completed records of oral interview results, standardized recording forms and evaluations.
6. Interview(s) with personnel responsible for this function to verify their knowledge of and compliance with agency policies.

12.7 Employment Record Maintenance

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 12.7 The agency requires that records of all law enforcement officers who have been selected for employment are maintained for a minimum of six years after the end of their employment. Records should include, but not be limited to written exam results, physical agility test results, medical exam results, psychological findings, oral interview results and background investigations.

Commentary: The six-year time limit is based on the records retention and disposition schedule issued by the Commissioner of the State Department of Education [schedule MU-1 (9 NYCRR section 185.11) for use by city, town, and village agencies; or schedule CO-2 (9 NYCRR section 185.13) for use by county agencies and applies to all hires, whether full-time, part-time, entry level or lateral appointment. It is recognized that agencies may not have kept such records in the past, but they must begin such record keeping for future compliance.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A listing of all past officers (including dates of termination) is provided so that assessors can randomly select and review personnel files for compliance with the State Education Law.
2. A review of personnel files to verify agency compliance.

12.8 Probation

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 12.8 The agency requires that entry level law enforcement officers successfully complete a period of probation lasting at least one year from the date of appointment or otherwise as provided by collective bargaining agreements, civil service regulation or law. Written documentation demonstrates that the officers are evaluated at least three times during the probationary period.

Commentary: Periodic evaluations during the period of probation will allow the agency to adequately assess the individual's development and progress. The council recognizes that Civil Service Rules and Regulations may dictate probationary periods for lateral appointments but strongly recommends that a period of probation be negotiated similar to that of entry level officers.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Documentation that describes the length of probation as well as the method, criteria, and frequency of evaluation during this period is available for review.
2. Assessors may review agency files containing probationary records of officers.
3. Examples of forms or logs used by the agency to track the probationary status of officers may be provided.
4. Interview(s) with personnel who are either on probation or who have recently completed probation to determine the evaluation process they underwent.
5. Interview(s) with personnel responsible for supervising/administering the probationary evaluation process to determine their knowledge of and compliance with the probationary process.

12.9 Oath of Office

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 12.9 The agency requires that all law enforcement personnel take an oath of office to enforce the law and uphold the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of the State of New York, and any other applicable requirement.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the oath of office taken by sworn personnel is available for review. It should encompass all constitutional and other requirements.
2. Forms or documents used to record the fact that the oath has been administered are available for review.
3. Interview(s) with sworn personnel to verify that they took an oath of office.
4. Interview(s) with personnel responsible for administering the oath of office may be conducted to determine their knowledge of and compliance with agency requirements.

Section 13 – Performance Evaluations

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

13.1 Performance Evaluation System - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 13.1 The agency has a written directive that establishes and describes an annual personnel performance evaluation system for all sworn members in the department*. The system will include:

- A. The period for which their performance will be evaluated;
- B. Who the rater(s) will be;
- C. The criteria by which they will be evaluated;
- D. The results of the evaluation;
- E. A review process for contested evaluation reports; and,
- F. Every rater involved with the personnel performance evaluation system must receive instruction in rating procedures and rater responsibilities as a precondition of such involvement.

Commentary: A performance evaluation system is used to evaluate the work performance of an employee. It should be viewed as a basic measurement instrument that serves both management and the individual employee. The type of system used by various agencies will vary considerably, but it remains the responsibility of the chief law enforcement officer to establish a system that meets the need of the agency. The practice of documenting personnel evaluations not only incorporates good management principles, but is supported by court decisions. Constant attention to the system and proper training of the raters will foster fair and impartial personnel decisions, maintain and improve performance and provide a fair and objective means of measuring performance in accordance with prescribed guidelines.

This standard is intended to apply to every sworn member of the department except the chief law enforcement officer and executive staff as defined by the chief law enforcement officer.*

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

2. Examples of all reports, forms or logs used in this system are provided.
3. Completed evaluation forms are reviewed to verify that all aspects of the process are being implemented.

14.2 Court Appearances

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 14.2 The agency has a written directive regarding court attendance and professional conduct in court-related proceedings by all personnel required to attend or testify in court proceedings.

Commentary: The intent of this standard is to have each officer present a professional image in all court-related appearances. Examples of these may include coroner's inquests, motor vehicle hearings, parole hearings, depositions, and all trial proceedings.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the policy that establishes these guidelines is available for review.

14.3 Legislative Restrictions on Officers

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 14.3 The agency requires that each officer receives a written directive which specifies the legislative restrictions placed on officers, and outlines exceptions and procedures for disclosure where applicable.

Commentary: The intent of this standard is to inform all officers of the major restrictions imposed by law on police officers.

The Alcoholic Beverage Control Law prohibits police officers from having any interest in the sale or manufacture of alcoholic beverages (ABCL, §128).

The Election Law, (EL, §17-110) prohibits a police officer from using his office or powers to aid or oppose any political party, to reward or retaliate against any police officer with respect to voting or party affiliation, or to solicit funds for a political party or other such organization.

The Racing, Pari-Mutuel Wagering and Breeding Law (§107) prohibits police officers from holding any office or employment with any firm that is licensed to conduct video lottery gaming or horse racing activities; conducts its business at racetracks where pari-mutuel race meets or video lottery gaming are conducted; owns or leases to a licensed entity racetrack at which pari-mutuel racing or video lottery gaming is conducted, or participates in the management of any licensee conducting video lottery gaming or pari-mutuel racing.

State and Municipal police officers are also subject to the provisions of Public Officers Law, Article 4 and General Municipal Law, Article 18, respectively. These statutes deal mainly with conflicts of interest. They impose certain prohibitions on activities by public officers and employees of municipal governments. The proscribed activities include:

- a. Acceptance of gifts having more than a nominal value.*
- b. Disclosure of confidential information learned in the course of official duties.*
- c. Receiving compensation for providing services relating to matters before an agency of which they are an employee.*

The same law also imposes several affirmative duties, including:

- a. Disclosure of any interest in any contract or dealings with the employing government.*
- b. Disclosure of the fact that a municipal or State employee has an interest in any real property for which an application for any sort of variance is made.*
- c. Effective January 1, 1991, annual filing of financial disclosure forms is required of certain employees.*

These statutes also contain or authorize the adoption of codes of conduct for state or municipal employees, as the case may be, relating to conflicts of interest.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessor may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify their understanding of and compliance with this directive.

14.4 Disciplinary System - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 14.4 The agency has a written directive that establishes a disciplinary system identifying the legal or contractual authority under which the system will proceed.

- A. The directive specifies the procedures for the maintenance of records of disciplinary actions.
- B. The directive specifies the circumstances in which an employee may be relieved from duty.
- C. The directive specifies the role of supervisory and command staff in the disciplinary process and the authority of each level thereof relative to disciplinary actions.

Commentary: A disciplinary system may address such items as: procedures and criteria for using remedial training as a function of discipline; procedures and criteria for using counseling as a function of discipline; procedures and criteria for punitive actions in the interest of discipline, including oral reprimands, written reprimands, loss of leave, suspension, demotion, dismissal; and, procedural safeguards for the recognition of employment rights provided by applicable statutory, case law and collective bargaining agreements. It is also the intent of the standard to establish the powers and authority of each command level, including supervisory levels, for relieving officers from duty. Such relief may be a temporary administrative action due to an employee's physical or psychological fitness for duty or the results of an internal affairs investigation.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify their knowledge and understanding of the disciplinary system.
3. Interview(s) with supervisory and command staff to verify their knowledge and understanding of their role in the disciplinary system.

14.7 Sexual Harassment - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 14.7 The agency has a written directive prohibiting sexual harassment in the work place and provides a means by which sexual harassment can be reported, including when the offending party is in the complainant's chain of command (including the chief law enforcement officer). The directive must specify that the agency will not retaliate against an individual who makes a report of such objectionable conduct nor permit any member of the agency to do so.

Commentary: There are several means by which an agency can limit its exposure to liability as a result of sexual harassment by its employees. These means include: strong policies and directives that prohibit such conduct; immediate and thorough investigation of any allegation of sexual harassment; effective and appropriate disciplinary action in any case where allegations of sexual harassment can be substantiated; and efforts to make agency employees aware of their responsibilities and the legal issues involved. See glossary for the definition of sexual harassment.

Examples of written tests and/or the formats used for oral tests can be provided.
7. The method(s) used to determine numerical weights and the manner in which they are assigned are described where applicable.

SECTION 18 – Death or Serious Injury of Agency Personnel

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

18.1 Death or Serious Injury of Agency Personnel - Procedures

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 18.1 The agency has a written directive that outlines their response to the death or serious injury of any member of the department whether in the line of duty or otherwise. The written directive must include guidelines for:

- A. Personal notification of the family in a timely manner;
- B. Media Coverage;
- C. Transporting family members to hospitals and providing support;
- D. Funeral procedures (degree of ceremony based on incident type and/or family's wishes);
- E. Assisting the family during any court proceeding stemming from the incident;
- F. On-going support/services for seriously injured employees;
- G. On-going support/services for family members;
- H. Support/services for members of the department affected by the incident.

Commentary: Having a plan in place to coordinate all of the events that follow the death or serious injury of a member of the agency is an important component to administrators' maintaining professionalism and focus during an emotionally difficult time. The plan will ensure that services and support are already identified so they may be offered in a timely manner to both members of the officer's family and the officer's colleagues within the department.

Appropriate services may include assisting the family at the hospital, supporting the family at the funeral and burial, helping the family with legal and benefits matters, counseling the family regarding finances and other possible problems, supporting the family during criminal proceedings (if any), providing ongoing support to the seriously injured employee, and maintaining long-term contact with the family to stay informed of their needs. Appointing one individual member of the department as a single point of contact to the family and/or employee is ideal and should be considered if agency resources allow.

If an agency is limited in available resources, they may utilize their municipality's EAP or other outside resources to meet this standard.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

- C. The procedure and criteria used to review the incident;

The process is intended to evaluate the circumstances behind all incidences of firearm discharge and the results of the review of such incidents.

THIS PAGE LEFT BLANK

Section 25 – Internal Affairs

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

25.1 Internal Affairs Function - CRITICAL STANDARD

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 25.1 The agency has a written directive that outlines the internal affairs function. The directive shall include provisions for:

- A. The position(s) within the agency responsible for the internal affairs function with the authority to report directly to the agency's chief law enforcement officer;
- B. Documenting the investigation of complaints against officers;

- D. Maintaining the confidentiality of the internal affairs investigation and records;
- E. Maintaining a liaison with the District Attorney's Office, and;
- F. Notifying the complainant that the matter is being handled administratively (as per §50-a of the Civil Rights Law).

Commentary: The internal affairs function is vital to the integrity of the agency. Fundamental fairness to all participants must be guaranteed through impartial investigations and review. The chief law enforcement officer has the primary responsibility for this function. All reports or accusations made against members of the agency should be completely investigated.

Examples of less serious complaints that may be investigated by an immediate supervisor include officer tardiness, rudeness, and insubordination. More serious categories of complaints that may be investigated by the Internal Affairs function include corruption, brutality, death or serious injury, criminal misconduct, and breach of civil rights.

28.4 Social Media

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 28.4 The agency has a written directive that governs the use of social media by agency personnel and at a minimum:

- A. Provides guidelines for the department-sanctioned use of social media both as a means of communicating agency information with the public and as an investigative tool;

- D. Prohibits the revelation of agency-sensitive information which may damage investigations or undercover operations, and;
- E. Prohibits the revelation of information that could damage the agency's reputation or credibility or otherwise be detrimental to the agency's mission.

Commentary: Social media may be used by the agency in an official capacity to communicate with the public, problem-solve, and investigate and/or prevent crimes. In addition, social media plays a role in the personal lives of many people employed by law enforcement agencies. Even use as individuals, separate and apart from the agency, may have a bearing on them in their official capacity and/or on the agency as a whole. Therefore, it is important to have a policy in place that governs the use of social media both in an official capacity and for employees as private individuals.

Nothing in this standard is intended to mandate the use of social media by a law enforcement agency.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

- A. The position(s) or component(s) within the agency responsible for the coordination of the community relations function, and;
- B. Information regarding the responsibilities of each member of the agency so that it's clear that achieving the agency's community relations objectives is a responsibility shared by all personnel.

Commentary: Law enforcement agencies are often called upon to advise and inform the public about various topics, such as crime prevention, personal safety and police activities. In order to coordinate the department's efforts, it is essential to designate a person to be responsible for this function and to delegate, whenever appropriate, the duties to different units or people according to their areas of expertise.

All personnel in the agency, both sworn and civilian, should project a positive image and embrace the notion that one of their main functions is to meet the needs of the community they serve. Ensuring every employee is aware of the different programs the agency offers enables them to inform members of the community during the course of their duties.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.

ADMINISTRATION

Commentary: All personnel, both sworn officers and civilians, should be aware that they have a responsibility to assist the public in protecting themselves against criminal acts. Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

In addition, every law enforcement agency must have available written information supplied by the Office of Victim Services explaining the availability of crime victim compensation and victim services as per Article 22 of the NYS Executive Law.

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

3. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify their knowledge and understanding of the requirements of this legislation.

29.5 Sex Offense Victims

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 29.5 The agency has a written directive that ensures victims of sex offenses and/or incest are afforded the proper protections in accordance with the provisions of §642, subdivision 2-a, of the Executive Law.

Commentary: Such provisions require that victims receive appropriate care to facilitate the reporting process.

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.

5. Observation of the private setting used for the interview of sex crime victims.

29.6 Sex Offender Management

ADMINISTRATION

STANDARD 29.6 The agency has a written directive concerning sex offenders living within their jurisdiction. At a minimum, this directive shall provide for:

- A. Community notification made to those deemed as potential vulnerable populations.
- B. Permitting the agency to verify a sex offender's address and to secure a warrant for arrest when appropriate.

Commentary: Agencies should understand that they have the need to protect the community and that the law allows for notification by the agency when a sex offender is residing in the community. For the purposes of Bullet A of this standard, community notification is a purposeful and proactive effort to notify the vulnerable populations contained in the agency list as required by SORA, Correction Law Article 6-C, §168-l, 6 (b) and (c). Proactive efforts may include, but not be limited to, sending letters to vulnerable populations (e.g. schools, daycare facilities, nursing homes, etc.); having community meetings with affected groups; or providing information via website, with occasional letters sent to vulnerable entities to inform them the information exists.

In addition, sex offenders are required to submit an annual address verification form to DCJS to report their actual physical address and failure to do so is a felony. To comply with Bullet B, the written directive will include provisions for verifying a sex offender's address when they fail to verify or register as required by law. Your agency's procedure may include other methods of ascertaining the whereabouts of an unverified sex offender. Obtaining an arrest warrant is an option for those that cannot be located using any other method.

Section 32 - Basic

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

32.1 Basic Course for Police Officers

TRAINING

STANDARD 32.1 The agency requires that all sworn officers are not authorized, permitted or assigned to perform regular law enforcement duties until they have successfully completed a basic course for police officers within one year of appointment date. This course must meet or exceed the requirements established by the Municipal Police Training Council. Officers who have not completed the basic course can, however, perform regular police duties if they are accompanied by and under the direct supervision of a law enforcement officer who has successfully completed such a course.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Training records of sworn officers may be reviewed to verify successful completion of a basic school.

3. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify the accuracy of training records and agency compliance with the standard.
4. Interview(s) with agency personnel responsible for the training function to verify their knowledge of and compliance with this standard.

32.3 Firearms Training

TRAINING

STANDARD 32.3 The agency has a written directive that prohibits officers from carrying or using any firearm in connection with the performance of their official duties, with the exception of authorized departmental firearms training, unless they have satisfactorily completed an approved Municipal Police Training Council Program (or a program that meets or exceeds those requirements) that constitutes the basic course of instruction in the use of deadly physical force and in the use of firearms.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Agencies that do not use a course approved by the Municipal Police Training Council to instruct officers in the use of deadly physical force and firearms may provide copies of the course curriculum and lesson plans.
3. A review of officer training records. These records may include appropriate test results and written evaluations. A listing of officers authorized to carry or use firearms should be provided by the agency for comparison purposes.
4. Interview(s) with agency personnel responsible for the training function to verify compliance with the standard.
5. Interview(s) with recruit officers to verify that appropriate training was received prior to carrying a firearm.

32.4 Use of Less Lethal Substances/Devices

TRAINING

STANDARD 32.4 The agency has a written directive that requires officers be trained in the proper use of less lethal substances, and other devices in which they did not receive training in the basic course for police officers. All officers using these less lethal substances and other devices must successfully complete an initial training course prior to issuance, and annual training thereafter.

Commentary: Training is important to ensure the proper use of these less lethal substances and devices. Examples of less lethal substances and devices include but are not limited to: chemical (pepper spray), electrical (stun devices and projectiles), kinetic energy projectiles (shot bags and ring airfoil projectiles), nets (baton and projectile launched) and fleeing vehicle interdiction mechanisms.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

32.5 Field Training

TRAINING

STANDARD 32.5 The agency has a field training program. This program must provide a minimum of 160 hours for recruit officers with no prior police experience and be completed at the earliest possible date. The recruit officer must be accompanied and supervised by a field training officer² and will not be assigned to work alone until such training is satisfactorily completed. The program should include, but not be limited to:

- A. Daily written evaluations;
- B. Specific performance criteria; and
- C. Observed interaction with the public.

Commentary: Field training is an extension of academy training and offers a transition period between the theory and role play of the academy and the work conditions of the job.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the field training program is available for review.

3. Interview(s) with personnel responsible for supervising/coordinating the field training program can be conducted to verify their knowledge and understanding of the function.
4. Interview(s) with field training officers(s) and recruits to verify compliance with the standard.

² As of January 1, 2015, all FTOs must complete the Municipal Police Training Council Police Field Training Officer course or equivalent.

Section 33 – In-Service

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

33.1 Length and Content - CRITICAL STANDARD

TRAINING

STANDARD 33.1 The agency requires that all sworn personnel, both full and part-time, receive at least 21 hours of in-service training annually. This training includes, at a minimum, firearms training, legal updates, a review of the use of force and the use of deadly force. The agency maintains records documenting all topics that are covered during the training.

Firearms training shall include live fire training of all authorized firearms on the firing range.

Commentary: This training can be fulfilled through the use of formalized and documented training sessions where lesson plans and attendance records are maintained. This may include classroom training, roll call or video presentations. Each officer must demonstrate specific proficiency as established by the chief law enforcement officer. It is recommended that interactive judgment training be incorporated into the use of force/deadly force component.

Part-time officers who are full-time officers in other departments may consider in-service training received at their full-time department toward meeting this requirement, provided the accredited agency can show documentation of the training received.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A review of training records to determine that all officers have either met or will meet the annual 21-hour training requirement. (Specific topics listed in the standard must be included as part of the scheduled training.)
2. Interview(s) with agency personnel to verify the accuracy of the training records.
3. Interview(s) with personnel responsible for the training function to verify their knowledge of and compliance with the in-service requirement.

33.2 Instructor Qualifications

TRAINING

STANDARD 33.2 The agency must use certified instructors to provide and/or approve the required 21-hour in-service training. This certification must be in accordance with instructor standards and qualifications pursuant to 9NYCRR 6023 or 6024 of the New York State Codes, Rules, and Regulations. If the proposed instructor has not been certified, a certified instructor must review and approve the content of the lesson plans.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Agency may provide a list of instructors that it uses as well as records verifying that they have been certified in accordance with Part 6023 or 6024 of N.Y.S. Codes, Rules and Regulations.
2. If the agency establishes its own standards and qualifications for instructors, a copy of the standards and qualifications are provided for review. They should be consistent with those set forth in Part 6023 or Part 6024. Records must be provided to verify that instructors have satisfactorily met all requirements.
3. If the qualifications of an instructor are unknown, documentation that a certified instructor has reviewed and approved the content of the lesson plan is available for review.
4. Interview(s) with personnel responsible for the training function to verify their knowledge and understanding of the certification requirement.
5. Interview(s) with personnel used by the agency as instructors to verify both their certification and the accuracy of agency records.

33.3 Specialized Training

TRAINING

STANDARD 33.3 The agency identifies the positions for which specialized technical and job-specific training is required to adequately perform the tasks. All sworn personnel filling these specialized positions must successfully complete an initial training course in a timely manner in their area of specialization and attend periodic in-service training courses to update their skills.

Commentary: A specialist is defined as any officer who uses equipment that requires training beyond that supplied in the basic school. Examples of positions that require specialized technical and job-specific training include, but are not limited to, firearms, canine, aviation, SWAT, SCUBA, bomb disposal, mounted patrol, investigative specialists, crime scene processors, and operators of deception detection devices.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with the standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

3. A schedule or timetable showing that each person in a specialized position either has attended or is scheduled to attend appropriate in-service training is available for review.
4. The name of the agency or organization that administers the initial and in-service training courses is provided. Information pertaining to the location, duration and curriculum used should be on file.
5. Training logs, records and evaluations of any specialized in-service courses which officers have already attended are available for review.
6. Interview(s) with personnel designated as being in specialized positions should be conducted to verify the accuracy of agency records and agency compliance with the standard.

Section 34 – Supervisory Training

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

34.1 First-Line Supervisors

TRAINING

STANDARD 34.1 The agency requires that all first-line supervisors successfully complete a police supervision course within one year of appointment that meets or exceeds Municipal Police Training Council course requirements. 34.2 Annual Supervisory Training

TRAINING

STANDARD 34.2 The agency requires that all supervisors receive annual training to enhance supervisory skills.

Commentary: It is the intent of this standard to continually provide supervisory skill level training to all supervisors. This supervisory skills training may be included in the overall 21 hours of annual in-service training.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

Commentary: The written directive will provide guidance as to who is in command of a particular operation when personnel from two or more components are included in a single operation. (Example - who is in charge if patrol and detective personnel are present at the scene of an incident?)

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

41.1 Vests

OPERATIONS

STANDARD 41.1 The agency requires that a soft body armor vest or jacket is provided to every officer whose regular duties are such that they may expose the officer to serious physical injury which may result in death or disability.

Commentary: *The intent of this standard is to ensure officer safety. Section 42 – Vehicles

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

42.1 Patrol Vehicles

OPERATIONS

STANDARD 42.1 The agency has a written directive that:

- A. Specifies the minimum equipment authorized by the agency to be included in every vehicle used for patrol, and;
- B. Requires that the majority of vehicles used routinely for general patrol service are conspicuously marked.

Commentary: For the purposes of this standard, "conspicuously marked" includes at a minimum, light bars and an agency identifier on the vehicle. It is important to have patrol officers maintain a high visibility as a deterrent to criminal activity. However, it is also recognized that unmarked or special duty vehicles not conspicuously marked may also be used occasionally for patrol.

Further, it is not the intent of this standard to direct an agency as to what equipment it must carry in a patrol car, but rather to require the agency to specify such equipment on an official list. Equipment such as first aid kits, blankets, flares, and a fire extinguisher are generally considered the minimum needed by patrol officers to handle emergencies effectively. It is the intent of this standard that the equipment carried in all patrol vehicles is standardized within the agency.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.

42.3 Seat Belts

OPERATIONS

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

- D. Qualification and training for personnel assigned as operators;

Section 43 - Activities

New York State Law Enforcement Accreditation Program

43.1 Responding to Calls

OPERATIONS

STANDARD 43.1 The agency has a written directive that establishes guidelines for responding to routine, urgent, and emergency calls. The directive should permit for the designation of the seriousness of a call and include the equipment to be used during the calls (e.g. emergency lights and siren).

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

5. Review of communications/dispatch records to verify compliance with the standard.

43.3 Law Enforcement Response

OPERATIONS

STANDARD 43.3 The agency will ensure that law enforcement response is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week and includes telephone access for calls for service within the jurisdiction.

Commentary: The public should be provided with police emergency services 24 hours a day. These services may be provided through arrangement with a nearby agency if the agency itself cannot provide this coverage. The public should be able to contact a law enforcement agency at any time and receive immediate response to emergency situations.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Agency duty roster specifying coverage for calls for service during times other than normal working hours is available for review.
2. If an agency does not provide 24-hour coverage, documentation specifying how it provides coverage in emergency and off hour situations is available for review.
3. If another agency is involved in providing 24-hour coverage, relevant documentation (e.g. contractual agreements) is provided. Contact with the other agency should be made to verify the performance of this function.

- C. Secondary unit(s) responsibilities;
- D. Dispatcher's responsibilities;
- E. Supervisor's responsibilities;
- F. Forcible stopping;
- G. When to terminate pursuit; and
- H. Inter- and intra-jurisdictional pursuits.

3. Interview(s) with patrol officers, dispatchers and supervisors to verify their understanding of agency policy and their designated role in a pursuit situation.

43.5 Roadblocks

OPERATIONS

STANDARD 43.5 The agency has a written directive that describes circumstances warranting the use of road blocks and specific procedures for implementation.

Commentary: There is extreme danger and liability in the use of roadblocks. The agency's directive should specify types of roadblocks and the circumstances justifying their use. The term roadblock, as used in this standard, is not a routine traffic checkpoint.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. A copy of the written directive is available for review.
2. Interview(s) with various components of agency personnel (e.g., dispatchers, patrol officers, supervisors) to verify their understanding of the directive and the role that each one has in a roadblock situation.
3. Agency reports that involved the use of roadblocks are available for review.
4. Interview(s) with agency personnel, if any, who were recently involved in a roadblock situation to verify their knowledge of and compliance with the directive.

44.2 Hate Crimes

OPERATIONS

STANDARD 44.2 The agency has a written directive that outlines the response to hate crimes in accordance with the Hate Crimes Act of 2000. The directive should address the unique factors to consider when establishing motive and the proper crime classification for hate crimes that will lead to an elevation of the charge(s).

Commentary: New York State Penal Law §485.05 designates certain crimes or attempts to commit those crimes as hate crimes when the primary motive for the crime is based on the victims race, color, national origin, ancestry, gender, religion, religious practice, age, disability or sexual orientation. Hate crime investigations pose a challenge for many agencies since they require establishment of a motive. Early identification and supervisory notification is crucial. Agencies should have a directive in place that outlines the law, and are strongly encouraged to adapt other standards (e.g. 40.2; 50.1) to strengthen the critical components of responding to a hate crime.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

- C. Criteria and procedures for activation of AMBER Alert, Missing Child Alert, Missing College Student Alert, and Missing Vulnerable Adult Alert Systems.

OPERATIONS

STANDARD 47.2 The agency has a written directive to guide officers' actions when stopping, approaching and addressing traffic law violators.

Commentary: Due to the fact that this is one of the most frequent types of contacts made between law enforcement officers and the public, there are two separate but equally important issues that must be addressed. First, this is a stressful time for citizens. The courtesy and positive image that is shown by the officer will not only make this contact less confrontational but will also enhance the image of the officer and the agency. The second issue involves safety. Both the safety of the officer and the safety of the motoring public must be considered when establishing these procedures.

Compliance Verification Strategies

47.6 Hazardous Road Conditions

OPERATIONS

STANDARD 47.6 The agency has a written directive that specifies procedures for taking action to correct hazardous highway situations.

- B. The questioning of juveniles only in rooms approved by the Chief Administer of the Courts (section 205.20 of the Uniform Rules for Family Courts);
- C. The maintenance of juvenile records separate from those of adults, and;
- D. The position(s) responsible for the collection, dissemination and retention of juvenile records.

Commentary: Given the special legal status of juveniles, written directives can assist in governing matters such as: how a juvenile enters the juvenile justice system, how to interview juveniles, issues relating to temporary detention, and diversion to the adult system and record-keeping. These procedures must be consistent with legal guidelines found in the NYS Criminal Procedure Law, Family Court Act or other legal or judicial guidelines.

Commentary: Provisions should be made to identify and include specific instances when individuals might not be processed. These instances may include times when fingerprinting is not practical or an appearance ticket is issued. Compliance should be consistent with provisions of specific areas of statutory law, including Criminal Procedure Law, Juvenile Laws or violations of Family Court Act.

- E. Mobile Data Computers; and
- F. Misdirected Emergency Calls.

Commentary: The agency should, within its capabilities, comply with state and county interoperable communication plans including use of plain language and channel naming.

Commentary: This may be fulfilled by portable radios or at the very least mobile units.

Compliance Verification Strategies

Assessors may seek to verify agency compliance with this standard by using one or more of the strategies listed below. There may be other strategies identified by the agency which could also be acceptable.

1. Inspect the facility and equipment with which the agency conducts its two way radio communications (i.e. base station, portable walkie-talkies, and radios in police vehicles.)

55.5 Intra-Agency Cooperation

OPERATIONS

STANDARD 55.5 The agency has a written directive for interaction, coordination and cooperation between patrol and other components of the agency.

Commentary: The level of police service to the community often suffers from lack of communication between different components of an agency. For example, patrol and other specialty units (i.e., investigations, traffic, vice, etc.) often operate with different priorities, so there must be a mechanism in place to ensure cooperation and exchange of information amongst the various components. Formal communication procedures established by the chief law enforcement officer may prevent these problems from occurring. Compliance may be demonstrated by regular staff meetings, case updates and/or regular exchanges of investigative reports.
